SINCE THE DAWN OF TIME...

MEN HAVE BEEN DECORATING THEIR CAVES

So when did paint names get so... cheesy?
The Revolution came when CIL asked you to help
rekindle the spirit of manly decorating.

The Paint Chip Names for Men Campaign drew fantastic manly paint names from far and wide.
Contained in this brochure are a sample of the best of the best... inspiration for you. Your home.

And your Man Cave.

THE HOME THEATRE CAVE

The ultimate chill colour combo for having the guys over for pizza and the game... or to watch Die Hard for the sixteenth time.

MAN TIP: Allergic to peanut butter? Pick your favourite food, and colour match it to CIL's "mellow & comforting" selection.

THE MAVERICK HOME BAR CAVE

Whether you want to impress your buddies with your swanky drink mixing skills, or simply avoid that guy who always picks horrible songs on the juke box at your local bar, this colour combo will help you create a home bar haven.

MAN TIP: Want an after-work-drinks vibe that's less mellow and more vibrant?
Use your accent colour (Maverick) to paint the front of the bar with CIL smart³ Furniture & Cabinet paint.

THE CONFIDENT UNCONSCIOUS CAVE

Who says men can't have style? Prove that you can build yourself a stellar lights-out cave that impresses the masses—and that you don't need to do it with pink floral wallpaper and vases on every surface. Beat that.

MAN TIP: Dark furniture screams awesome-elegant. Just make sure you don't turn your bedtime cave into the bat cave. Brighten things up with light trim.

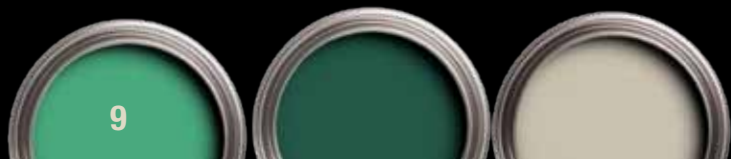

THE MO' MONEY GAMING CAVE

Feelin' rich? This is a perfect colour combo for your super luxe billiards or poker room. No need to tell your buddies to show you the money. The room does it for you.

MAN TIP: Using your games cave for video gaming? Tie your favourite game into the palette. For example, if you love racing games, use electric car colours in place of the greens.

THE MIDLIFE CRISIS CAN CAVE

Treat every day like a midlife crisis—and by that, we mean, spoil yourself! Whether showering, shaving or... you know... you deserve a clean and relaxing colour scheme to help you ease into the day!

MAN TIP: Have an expensive luxury that you can't wait to splurge for? Throw a colourful pop of inspiration on to the wall in your cave to remind you what you're working for!

THE SUCKER PUNCH HOME OFFICE CAVE

When you're hunkering down responsibly and getting work done, it's nice to be reminded of the wild times. Surround yourself with colours reminiscent of last Friday night—beer and bruises (from walking into a wall, but you can tell everyone you saved a baby from a speeding car).

MAN TIP: Not man enough for Sucker Punch? (We won't judge.) Just pair up the other colours with a different accent from CIL's deep & luxurious mood group. You might try a blue.

THE PIMPIN' THE TRANS-AM WORKOUT CAVE

Soft pastel colours are for nurseries. When you want to get your sweat on, you need colours that are going to pump you up! Style your home workout cave with this vibrant and rich palette so you feel the energy while you're workin' it.

MAN TIP: One great colour just isn't enough? Try colour blocking like in the image above by taping off a stripe, or half of the wall. And don't forget a wall-mounted flat screen.

THE ZOMBIE APOCALYPSE GARAGE BAND CAVE

When it's time to rock on, you need to get energized. Surround yourself in good vibe vibrants so you and your band mates can keep rocking all night long—even without the caffeine.

MAN TIP: If your sound is less rock and more chill, switch from CIL's deep & luxurious colour palette to mellow & comforting to find toned down versions of garage cave colours.

THE WINGMAN “I’LL FIX IT” CAVE

We know. You make DIY look easy. So use this colour scheme to also make it look classic, rustic and down-to-earth. Like you could use your tools with your eyes closed. (But please don’t.)

MAN TIP: Keeping your fix it cave clean with crisp and airy colours will make it easier to spend as many hours as you need in it, without it ever feeling dungeon-y.

*CIL takes no responsibility for any blind DIY you attempt.

TRANSLATION, PLEASE.

"I know we're talking paint, but all I see are butterflies and coffee cups. What's this mood group stuff?"

 deep & luxurious™

This group of colours is for rooms that you want to scream luxury. They're deep and intense, and you can probably find both your fantasy car colour and your favourite sports teams' jersey colour in here.

 clean & playful™

This group of colours is for rooms that you want to be clean, or bright and fun. Think a gaming room, or a den. And when your kid nephew/neice wants to paint his or her room neon... this is the palette you'll find it in.

 mellow & comforting™

This group of colours is for rooms that you want to chill in. Mellow, relaxing, warm and reminiscent of the outdoors. Think camping, hiking, fishing, and hot cocoa. Ahhhhh.

 soft & elegant™

This group of colours is for rooms that you want to pass out in, or ones you want to get a lighter, fluffier kind of feeling in. Sure, we may want our man cave to be dark and intense, but sometimes we all agree that the kitchen should be a little softer.

Match up colours by mood group. That's it.

Every paint chip has a symbol to tell you which mood group it belongs to, and they're all organized on the CIL colour centre horizontally by group. Simple.

WHERE THE BLEEP?

Found your colours in here, but can't find where they are in the colour centre?
See the chart below to match up the Man Name with the much-less-cool name.
